

Declaration of consent for the publication of theses

By signing the declaration of the author on the application for issuance of a final thesis, you agree to be bound by the following agreement:

1. I authorize the Hamburg University of Applied Sciences (HAW Hamburg), represented by the Faculty of Life Sciences, the non-exclusive right to electronically save, convert into other formats (if applicable) and reproduce the above-specified theses and to make it available to the public on a permanent basis on the servers of HAW Hamburg and distribute it via the internet.
2. The present final thesis may further be displayed in the library of the Faculty of Life Sciences of the HAW Hamburg and made accessible to interested persons.
3. The summary (form sheet) which is to be submitted separately from the final thesis may be reproduced in the present form and published in electronic form.
4. I am aware that, in connection with the publication of my final thesis in the above-specified scope, the HAW Hamburg is obliged to deliver the thesis to the German National Library and to the Hamburg State and University Library under the German Legal Deposit Libraries Act.
5. The document server is operated by HAW Hamburg. HAW Hamburg reserves the right to subcontract these services to third parties.
6. I am informed that the publication of the thesis especially on a server of HAW Hamburg may compromise or exclude other publication.
7. I certify to be the sole owner of any and all rights in the above-specified thesis and that the publication thereof does not infringe the rights of any third parties or violate any applicable laws. This includes the illustrations such as photos or graphics contained in the final thesis.
8. I certify that my final thesis does not include any personal data of third parties subject to data protection or that the express written consent for the publication of such data was obtained.
9. I certify that the submitted version of the final thesis is identical to the approved original version. This does not apply to the parts of a publication subject to data protection.
10. The author undertakes to indemnify HAW Hamburg from all claims raised by third parties against HAW Hamburg on grounds of any copy rights or other intellectual property rights held by them.
11. If claims are asserted directly against HAW Hamburg by third parties, the author shall provide HAW Hamburg immediately with all information and evidence required for the defense against such claims.
12. HAW Hamburg is entitled to completely or partially block the access to the above-specified thesis in the event of concrete reasons to believe that the thesis violates any legal provisions or of a violation of third-party rights is asserted which is not clearly unsubstantiated.

13. I was informed that HAW Hamburg is not liable for any misuse of contents by third parties. I am aware that the registration of intellectual property rights is my sole responsibility.
14. Should I have failed to remove my personal data (e. g. date of the final examination, curriculum vitae) from the final thesis, then I agree with the storage and publication of such data. I was informed that the bibliographic data and abstracts of the thesis will be made published on the internet via various catalogues, databases and search engines.
15. The author has the right to make the above-specified final thesis also available and distribute it otherwise.
16. Upon request of the author, the final thesis can be deleted from the servers of HAW Hamburg and removed from the collection of the library. I am aware that the deletion of the final thesis from the servers of HAW Hamburg does not affect the transfer to the German National Library and to the Hamburg State and University Library and that the final thesis is still available at these libraries.

Further information on the document server of HAW Hamburg can be found there:

<http://edoc.sub.uni-hamburg.de/haw/nutzungsbedingungen.php> and

<http://www.haw-hamburg.de/hibs/recherche/abschlussarbeiten.html>